Re: Letter from Sentech of May 25, 2010

Dear Jerry,

On May 27, 2010, we received the attached letter from Brian Jackson. Mr. Jackson represents Sentech, Inc., purported owner of U.S. Patents No. 5,483,826; 5,728,933; 6,357,292; and 6,672,151 (the "Sentech patent portfolio"). The letter, addressed to our general counsel, appears to accuse General Motors Corporation of having infringed these patents "over the last several years." Attached to the letter is a "Patent License and Liability Release Agreement" and claim charts for various TPMS manufacturers, including Schrader Electronics.

Please let me know how Schrader plans to proceed in this matter and whether you will be responding to Mr. Jackson or would like me to reply. I understand from our call today that you have received correspondence regarding these patents in the past and I look forward to any analysis of the Sentech patent portfolio you can share at this time.

Sincerely,
